Paris, June 20th 2022 – WALLIX, (Euronext ALLIX) a European cybersecurity software expert in Identity and Access Security solutions, receives the 2022 Customer Value Leadership Award for its WALLIX PAM4ALL solution from Frost and Sullivan, the prestigious U.S. analyst firm. The award recognizes that WALLIX PAM4ALL technology most closely meets the needs of organizations. According to Frost & Sullivan analysts, it is the best solution on the market in terms of cost, simplicity and flexibility. WALLIX PAM4ALL was also praised for its ability to adapt to customer requirements. With this award Frost & Sullivan also recognized WALLIX's outstanding customer service and innovation. The development of WALLIX PAM4ALL solution is based on customer feedback and input from CIO and CISO consultations.

"Among the many advantages of the solution, WALLIX PAM4ALL makes digital access management based on the principle of least privilege very accessible. Organizations are aware of the importance of this technology; however, existing solutions are complex to implement, in addition to being expensive. WALLIX PAM4ALL provides an easy-to-deploy, scalable solution with low acquisition and operational maintenance costs. In addition, the customer-centric approach allows WALLIX to offer a state-of-the-art solution for securing digital access and identity," said Deepali Sathe, Senior Industry Analyst at Frost & Sullivan.

This recognition from Frost & Sullivan validates WALLIX's "PAM for All" strategy. This strategy is based on WALLIX PAM4ALL, a unified solution combining all WALLIX technologies, which goes beyond securing privileged accounts and secures all exposed users and workstation based on the principle of least privilege. WALLIX PAM4ALL is the promise of a secure digital transformation for everyone.

This award also demonstrates WALLIX's ability to anticipate and meet the cybersecurity needs of organizations of all sizes around the world, including the United States. Frost & Sullivan highlights the expansion of the WALLIX Business Partner Program to more than 300 partners - including distributors, reseller integrators, global service providers (GSIs), and consulting firms - and continues to add new partners worldwide each year. Last year, leading IT distributors Arrow in the U.S., Tech Data UK and Tech Data Spain joined the WALLIX partner network, just to name a few.

"This award from Frost & Sullivan is a recognition that our business strategy is showing results. Our product vision also responds to the digital transformation challenges of our customers, who should no longer perceive cybersecurity as an obstacle, but rather as an accelerator of their transformation and an opportunity for economic growth. Themes such as improving user experience, reducing the operational burden, and automating deployments become product development axes that complement and optimize the existing wealth of digital access protection functions," explains Edwige Brossard, Product and Marketing Director at WALLIX.
